TO THE TIMES ONLY.

Protection to Women and Children—The Factories Act Vigorously Enforced.

Severe Weather—Three Below Zero and Three Feet of Snow—The Halfbreeds.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 22—Archbishop Tache publishes a long open letter to the Hon. Gilbert McMicken in this morning's Free Press, replying to the charges made by the latter gentleman in a paper read before the Historical Society, that French half-breeds were not loyal in the Fenian raid of 1871 at Pembina. The Archbishop is very bitter in his remarks.

It is proposed to erect a $40,000 market building in place of the one recently destroyed.

The C. P. R. intends utilising the Regina and Long Lake road, and will very shortly run trains over that branch.

A dispatch a week or two days from Victoria stated that a man named D. L. McLean, who was a smuggler, had been drowned on Puget Sound. Last night Mr. McLean dropped into the Free Press office to announce that he was still on deck. He also denied all connection with opium smuggling as alleged.

THREE FEET OF SNOW.

Three Below Zero—Remarkably Severe Weather—Steamer on Fire.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Montreal, Nov. 21—It is reported from Quebec that a northwest gale with snow has prevailed since Monday and anxiety is felt for the safety of a number of vessels which have started for Saguenay and the mouth of the gulf. The gulf shores are icebound and the fishermen are suffering for food and some who were here caught in the snow were badly frozen. Three feet of snow has fallen in the past three days.

The farmers in Quebec and Ontario have been caught unprepared by the early cold snap and stock is suffering severely. The weather in this neighborhood is the coldest known here in November for a score of years. The glass registered 3 degrees below zero this morning.

Last night the Allan Line steamship Pomeranian caught fire. She is covered with ice from the freezing of the water used in extinguishing the flames.

PROTECTION TO CHILDREN.

Factory Proprietors Fined for Unlawfully Employing Them.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, Nov. 22—The crossing case was taken up by the Supreme Court yesterday. Mr. Blake's argument for the C. P. R. took up all the afternoon.

Brighton, Ont., Nov. 22—Edward Cochrane, Conservative, was re-elected in North East Northumberland for the Commons by 53 majority.

St. Catharines, Nov. 22—The government inspector of factories laid an information against the Erie Preserving Company, under the Ontario Factories' Act, charging the proprietors with unlawfully employing in the factory six young girls and six women before six o'clock in the morning and after nine o'clock at night. The company pleaded guilty and was fined.

THE WHISKEY QUESTION

In the Northwest—How Matters Stand There.

The following respecting the liquor question in the Territories is furnished to THE TIMES by one familiar with these localities. The Northwest Legislature having granted the petition of the temperance people to submit the question to a popular vote of the people, as to whether they would adopt a license system or prohibition, future events there will be watched with great interest. The great question of prohibition forms the chief measure before the new legislative assembly in the Northwest. Mr. Turriff, of Carlisle District, leads and poses as champion of the cause, backed up by all the ability of the Northwest Temperance Union and a newspaper called the Qu'Appelle Progress. These forces, especially the latter, are irresistable in their own estimation, and wager war against all the wealth and influence of the more liberal-minded fellow-citizens in Alberta and Saskatchewan. The bantam of the Progress crows loudly within the very narrow sphere of its own barn yard, and is scarcely heard outside the fence. Prohibition under the Blake Act has been tried. It was very stringent, so much so that it made it a crime to make bread yeast, and placed the liberty of the subject in the hands of a tyranical police, who were ever ready to do the dirty work of the one man executive in the person of the present Hon. Minister of the Interior. The Hon. David Laird, when Governor of the Territories, carried out the provisions of the act without fear, favor or affection, even against himself. While under the wise (?) rule of his successor Hon. Edgar Dewdney the act became a means of political corruption in its very worst form. The Mounted Police became demoralized from a respectable military body to that of a mean whiskey detective force. A government official or supporter was known by his "permit keg" being always full. The "permit" carried the elections, and one noted Dominion official holding a senicure draws $1,500 a year for keeping a "permit" constantly on tap in his office. A magistrate keeping a hotel, boasted of having sold 1000 gallons of whiskey at his bar during one season. Drunkenness and riot between police and citizens disgraced the street scenes of the great metropolis on the "Pile of Bones" Creek, and often the only sober thing in the city was the town pump. Such was the "permit" system as administered by "the best appointment ever made." A ten gallon keg given as an incentive to the half-breeds at Batoche is said to have brought on the fight at Duck Lake. No wonder that the "permit" system became abhored both by friends and foes. The President of the Northwest Temperance Union can speak from personal knowledge as to the dreadful and glaring evils of the "permit" system, both socially and politically. East Assiniboia borders on the confines of Manitoba, and the lovers of the dram have the liquor within easy reach. Not so in the other districts, which show fight and demand a license law where now pain killer cocktails and axel grease juleps are the fancy temperance drinks at the bar. A fancy drink of high wines and tobacco—two plugs to the gallon—can be had out of a tea pot for 25 cents. We can not wonder at their determination to fight the east, even as they fought Jerry Traverse. The more populous district should not dictate to the other localities and each ought to have the right to judge what is best for itself by the votes of the people. Four per cent. beer and whiskey distributed for party favor is a failure. Double the number of police cannot prevent the importation of liquor. There are many in the territories who loveth their lush, and a good glass of sparkling ale, or even common beer is very desirable where water is scarce, and what little there is being both unsavory and unhealthy.

A GILDED SIN.

C. DuBois Committed for Trial—Obtaining Money Fraudulently.

C. DuBois, alias Morrison was charged by A. A. Aaranson in the police court this morning with obtaining money under false pretences.

A. A. Aaranson said he was a pawnbroker on Johnson street. On the morning of the 20th prisoner came into my store with what was purported to be gold dust; he stated he wanted to pledge it; I asked him whether he did not want to sell it; he said "no;" prisoner said it cost him over $100 and he wanted to use it for dental purposes; told him that I would have to test it; prisoner said he would ask his friend; told prisoner to come back at 12:30; I loaned him no money when he left the store; I tested the alleged gold with acid; prisoner returned at three o'clock, lent him $45 on the gold knowing that he could not get far away; took it to Fenock & Clayton; one pennyweight was tested in a crucible and found no gold when heated; made another test in another crucible with the same result; I then gave information to the police; the government assayer made a test this morning; I loaned the money believing the stuff to be gold.

To Prisoner—You told me there was likely to be a little dirt in it; I received the gold before I gave you the money. You said it was gold dust.

Prisoner said he went to the Victoria loan office and offered it there as a gold mixture.

To His Honor.—It was iron filings and sand and was washed with gold leaf.

Prisoner to Mr. Aaranson.—"Did you not smell the gold?"

Witness.—I can't tell anything by smelling.

Prisoner.—You ought to be able to tell by the smell.

His Honor—Of course prisoner can prove where you got the stuff.

Prisoner—The man who gave me the gold has gone away. Mr. Aaranson had no business to tamper with the deposit. It is mine and was left in his care. I told Mr. Aaranson it was gold mixture.

Witness to Supt—The package produced was left in my store by prisoner; the pawn ticket shows that I received gold dust from prisoner valued at $50.

To Prisoner—I told you that the pledge was made confidentially.

To the Supt.—I went with the police and hunted every hotel and the whole city, could not find prisoner. He evidently knew it was not gold dust because he did not want me to submit it to a test.

S Kirschberg sworn—I am a pawnbroker in the Victoria loan office; I know the prisoner; on Monday morning he wanted a loan on some gold dust; told him to sell it at Wells, Fargo's bank; he went away and came back in an hour and again asked for a loan of $40 on some gold dust; told him to go to the bank with it; prisoner did not say it was a mixture.

To Prisoner—You did not say it was a mixture.

His Honor—Go on, ask him anything you wish.

Prisoner—What is the use, he is lying.

To the Supt.—I saw prisoner last July; he had a moustache and a chin whisker.

Prisoner—I never had a moustache in my life.

To the Superintendent—I had no dealing with prisoner before. He came into my store and wanted to trade me a "petrified cat."

W. J. Sutton, said—I am Government assayer; Mr. Aaranson brought me a small quantity from the package produced; I made a primiary examination, not a thorough one; I found the stuff tested to consist of iron and a volitile matter consisting of some organic oil; I did not examine it minutely; I should judge that the sample was iron filings washed over with gold paint; it is a fair imitation of gold; if there is any gold in the package it is a very small quantity; the whole package contains less than 50 cents worth of gold.

To Prisoner—I am not supposed to know whether a man is sane enough to know whether the package produced is gold dust. A novice might be deceived by the stuff produced.

Prisoner—Would not a test made with a magnet, blow pipe, crucible or acid show that it is not gold?

Mr. Sutton—Certainly, by an assayer; a person must be an expert who would ask such a question.

To His Honor—I believe the prisoner is an expert; only an expert would speak of magnets, blow pipes, crucibles or acids as the prisoner does. I believe prisoner could prepare the mixture like that produced. His knowledge of the blow-pipe and magnet leads me to that conclusion.

Provincial Officer John M. Langley, sworn—I am Deputy Sheriff for the County of Victoria; yesterday morning about 2:30 received a description of a man wanted for passing bogus gold dust; before arriving at Vancouver spoke to prisoner and asked what he did with the gold dust; prisoner said he pawned some at Aaranson's; prisoner said he had no more; told him he had more and he ought to give it up; he then brought out a package of gold dust and a pawn ticket; I grabbed them from him and told him that he was under arrest; the stuff is similar to that given to Mr. Aaranson; is wrapped in similar cloth and paper; he went by the name of Morrison on the boat; prisoner said he was going to St. Paul to meet his wife and child.

Prisoner was committed for trial. Bail was fixed at $1,000.

Smith, Government leader, in defending the Government against the charge of breach of faith, reminded the House that he in July informed them this bill would be introduced in the autumn session. The second reading was fixed for Thursday. The Unionists voted solidly with the Government. Second Gladstonians, Haldane and Grey, voted against the amendment, and two others abstained from voting.

AN AWFUL TRAGEDY.

Two Men Engage in a Fight With Knives in a Darkened Room.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 19—Some time ago Dr. Robert Nubors, of Montevalle, employed W. W. Shortridge, a lawyer, to collect claims against delinquent patients. The returns were not satisfactory, and a dispute arose. Finally they agreed to fight with bowie knives in a darkened room just off the doctor's office. Removing their coats and shoes, the men entered the room and fought blindly but desperately for nearly ten minutes. Neighbors then broke the door open. Nubors staggered into the office with blood streaming from a dozen gashes in his face and breast. Without saying a word he rushed down stairs still clasping a gory knife in his hand. Lying upon the floor was Shortridge. His head had been slashed in a fearful manner. The arteries of his neck had been severed, one eye had been gouged out, and his hands were so terribly cut that the fingers hung only by the tendons. The man was dead. Nubors after leaving the office ran out upon the street. He seemed to be crazed with pain, and staggered wildly along the street until he reached a store, where Albert Keenan, a negro, stood in the door way. Without saying a word, Nubors rushed at Keenan and struck at him with the knife. The negro finally dealt him a terrible blow on the head, and leaping over his body ran into the street and disappeared. Nubors never regained consciousness. Both bodies were buried yesterday, the funerals being largely attended.

SLAVE TRADE ON EAST AFRICAN COAST.

A few days ago we referred to the intended united action of the British and German governments for the suppression of the slave trade on the East African coast. This action of the Imperial government is severely criticised in the London journals, and the injurious effects on the native mind of any proceedings calculated to identify British interests with those of Germany are also dwelt upon. It seems that Germany is in a great difficulty at Zanzibar through the conduct of her subjects. They are, it might be said, practically without a naval force sufficient to carry out their policy. Military rule as carried out on the banks of the Rhine does not suit those of the Zambesi. Seeing the effects of this mistaken military policy the aim is, according to the London press, to saddle the failure on the slave trade, and knowing the anti-slave trade sentiments of the British press and people it is used to secure the co-operation of Britain in the issue. Previous opinions of the Germans in Zanzibar regarding England's action in respect to the East African slave trade were that the presence of our fleet in these waters were more from a political than a philanthropic motive; therefore this newly awakened interest of the Great Chancellor in the slave trade arises from the present distress and difficulty. Up to the present the British settlements in East Africa, notwithstanding the hostility of the slave trade, have not been interfered with. A clear line of distinction has been drawn between the British and German settlers. If the contemplated action of the two great powers is directed against the natives of the coast, the British will suffer for the misdeeds of the Germans. This may lead to disaster to our established trade and settlements. Under the benign protection of the Union Jack some 10,000 of our Indian fellow subjects entered into the commerce of the coast and have the trade almost entirely in their hands. This growing trade will be practically ruined. The loss to life and property, the destruction of the flourishing settlement at Mombassa, together with the numerous mission stations, will be wrecked and an incalculable ruin done to the infant prospects of the colony. A war of races may be brought about, which may lead to a war of religion as well, and the effect may be felt on the minds of our loyal Mussulman subjects in India. If the English East African Colony is to succeed its interests must be kept wholly apart from that of other nations, as there is nothing in common between them. Their aims are entirely opposed. The German policy does not agree with that of England, which endeavors to colonize by trade, and if needs be by the force of arms in support of that policy. The Germans impose military rule. The proposition evidently does not meet the approval of the British public.

METIS LOYALTY IN 1871.

It appears from our despatches, that a lively discussion has commenced between the Hon. Gilbert McMicken of Winnipeg and His Grace Archbishop Tache of St. Boniface. His Grace denies that the Metis were disloyal at the time of the abortive Fenian invasion of Manitoba in 1871, led by O'Donaghue and "Jimmy Form Cork." The Hon. gentleman can speak of the affair from personal experience. As he traveled from St. Paul, Minn., at the time he met the Archbishop and the invading army at Georgetown. He was advised to disguise himself, which he did by cutting off his whiskers and otherwise. He engaged a special stage to take him to Fort Garry. He had an enormous sum of Canadian currency along with him, which would have been a windfall to the daring dozen or so of invaders. The amount is said to have been $2,000,000. The organizers of the scheme at Pembina had lists of the Metis, who were pledged to join the fillibusters, and these lists contained the names of the greater portion of the able-bodied Metis population of Red River. 'Tis true that Riel raised a company and shook hands on the banks of the Assinoboine with Governor Archibald, then Governor of the Province, and buried the hatchet and smoked the pipe of peace. But Sir Adams George Archibald did not avail himself of Riel's services and why? Because of the timely arrival of the Hon. G. McMicken, as Dominion agent, put him in possession of information which led to decline the proferred assistance. The action of Colonel Wheaton, commanding the U.S. troops at Pembina, in capturing the invading forces at the old Hudson Bay post at West Lynn brought the campaign to a close. Had the invaders been left in possession of the H. B. Co.'s fort, the action of the Metis population might not have been so passive or so gushingly loyal. The campaign lasted twenty-four hours. The belief in the loyalty of the majority of the Metis was never at a lower ebb than during that short period, and the suspicions of the white settlers were, no doubt, not without foundation.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

The Ottawa Evening Journal says that prospective legislation will be an act granting a full measure of responsible government in the Northwest.

The New York Herald devotes an entire page to an expression of opinion of prominent men upon the question of extending the term of office of the President of the United States to seven or eight years. It is claimed that the shrinkage in internal commerce and business of the country during the past four months traceable to the apprehension, excitement, and other conditions dependent upon the presidential campaign amounts to not less than $500,000,000, and argues that this and other reasons advanced justifies the extension of the term of the presidential office Among others quoted as favoring an extension are Chauncey M. Depew and Sydney Dillon, both of whom think six years is about the proper length of time for which a president should be elected.

CITY ALDERMEN.

The Street Railway—City Auditor—Electric Light.

The usual weekly meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held at 8:30 o'clock last evening in the City Hall. Present—His Worship Mayor Grant, Ald. Styles, Braden, Harris, Coughlan, Powell, Vigelius, Kelly and Wilson.

Minutes of previous meeting read and adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From J. W. Carey, asking for a wooden sidewalk on Cormorant street, opposite his new buildings. Referred to Street Committee.

From W. McDowell, calling attention to a culvert on Menzies street, James Bay. Mr. McDowell stated that he would hold the Council responsible for any damage done. Referred to Street Committee to report.

From R. Finlayson applying for the use of a portion of Douglas street to build a retaining wall. Permission granted.

From J. H. Turner calling attention to the bad condition of the streets in that portion of Johnson street ward across Rock Bay, especially Work street. Very little money was spent this year in that portion of Johnson street ward and a petition sent in some time ago calling attention to the necessary work was ignored by the Council.

Ald. Styles said he visited the places complained of several times and did not doubt that considerable work must be done in the locality. The old bridge across Rock Bay also needs renewing.

The communication was received and referred to the Street and Electric Light Committee.

From R. Wolfenden, secretary of the Board of School Trustees, asking permission to use the City Hall or Engine House for the election of a School Trustee. Permission granted.

From H. L. Salmon, stating that he was fined $50 for violating the fire by-law, and calling attention to the fact that a member of the council was setting the law at defiance and violating the fire ordinance by altering a wooden building within the fire limits.

Ald. Styles said he called the attention of the Building Inspector to the fact that Mr. Penwill was violating the law and he visited the building. Mr. Penwill had altered the building so that he was not amenable to the law.

Ald. Coughlan said he saw the building and did not think any Alderman should violate the law. Mr. Salmon was fined and because Ald. Penwill was a member of the Council he should not act against the by-law.

The communication was referred to Fire Wardens and Building Inspector.

From S. Perry Mills, stating that his patience was nearly exhausted in waiting for a reply to communications re damages claimed by Miss Beauchamp for injuries received through being thrown from a waggon by the vehicle striking against a telephone post. Received and filed.

From Simeon Duck, calling attention to the fact that a number of licenses for the year 1888 remain unpaid and that there is no assessment roll in existence. All taxes must be paid before Dec. 1st to allow people the privilege of voting and it will be necessary to prepare a roll and collect the amounts due immediately.

The communication was laid on the table.

Ald. Harris said it would be necessary to give the Assessor and Collector more assistance, and it would also be proper to give Mr. Duck some temporary assistance. Two constables and the City Clerk should start out immediately to collect the taxes.

From Eberts & Taylor, enclosing an agreement with J. D. Warren and associates re street railway.

His Worship said it was necessary to place a by-law before the people.

A motion was made to go into Committee of the Whole and read the agreement clause by clause. Carried.

The Council then went into Committee, His Worship in the chair.

On clause 12 Ald. Vigelius said fifty years was too long a time to give a privilege to this company and by that time this city will have half a million inhabitants. This was giving the promoters a very great power.

Ald. Wilson said he would be in favor of giving the company a franchise for ten years. Fifty years was too long.

Ald. Harris said there was no reason why any other company should not be allowed to have a street railway. Before fifty years we will be all running by electricity.

The Committee reported the agreement as passed without amendment and the proper parties were instructed to attach the seal.

Moved and seconded that the Street Railway By-Law, 1888, be read a first time. Carried.

ACCOUNT.

From Charles Wilkes for $375, was read and referred to the Finance Committee to be paid if found correct.

PETITIONS.

From W. McKeon and others asking for a stone crossing on Yates street opposite Oriental alley. Referred to Street Committee.

From eight ratepayers, asking for the removal of water on King's road. Referred to Street Committee and Water Committee.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Ald. Harris' motion to amend the Officers' Remuneration By-Law was then taken up.

Ald. Harris asked that the motion lay over for one week. The Alderman's attention was called to a portion of the motion in reference to the Sanitary Officer.

His Worship said if it was found that the Sanitary officer could not attend to the City Hall some poor old man might be found to do the work for a few dollars.

REPORTS

From the Street Committee was read and adopted.

From the Library Committee, stating that with the assistance of Mr. McGregor they had selected books to the value of $500. The Committee also submitted a list of the books

From the Electric Light Committee recommending that R. B. McMicking be placed in charge of the electric street lighting; that David Williams be notified that his services will be no longer required.

Ald. Braden said the city has gone to great expense and instead of being the best lit up city on the coast it was the worst. The lights are the worst he ever saw and we would have better lights by returning to the old mode of lighting with gas.

Ald. Harris—The Electric Light Committee are working a broken down horse.

Ald. Powell said the city was well lighted during the summer.

Ald. Braden—Yes, by the moon.

Another report from the Library Committee was submitted, recommending the renting of rooms at the corner of Wharf and Fort streets, in the old Odd Fellows' Hall. The report was adopted.

From R B McMicking, acknowledging receipt of instructions to take charge of the electric light works; submitting an inventory of property in the electric light building, and informing the Council that Mr. Roberts, second engineer, was placed in charge in the place of Mr. D. Williams. Adopted.

AUDITOR.

The following applications were received for the position of auditor: From Alex. Lindsay, Alex. Mouat, J. L. Raymur, Robt. Plummer, P. Schwenger, W. H. Brooks and James McGregor.

The first vote taken stood as follows: For J. L. Raymur, Alds. Braden, Harris, Styles, Wilson, Coughlan and Powell. Alds. Vigelius, Penwill and Kelly were absent.

It was moved and seconded that Mr. Raymur be notified of his election and that he be required to furnish bonds to the amount of $5,000.

A motion was made to instruct the city surveyor to prepare a map to establish grades throughout the city.

Ald. Coughlan moved that all disputed taxes and arrears, from the year 1881 to 1885 inclusive, amounting to about $700 be struck off the books of the Corporation. Carried.

His Worship called attention to the condition of an old man named Dowdy who was sick and needed assistance. The matter was left in the hands of His Worship.

The Mayor also called attention to a poor woman named Mrs. Ford who has a small piece of property and has a mother dependant on her who is paralyzed.

The Council decided to remit one-half the taxes paid by the woman.

The Council then adjourned.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Cable and American Dispatches—Interesting Items.

London, Nov. 21—Labouchere moved the rejection of the land bill, and in support of his motion complained of the haste with which the measure was being passed, obviously with a desire on the part of the government to prevent the country from considering the proposals. The importance of the question, he declared, made it absolutely necessary that it should receive the special sanction of the country. The bill did a gross injustice to the British taxpayer, and would be particularly injurious to Ireland since it would encourage the system of absenteeism. Sir George O. Trevelyan opposed the bill and warned the house that if it passed the measure it would soon be called on and compelled to grant additional millions. On motion of Parnell the debate adjourned.

A STUBBORN EDITOR.

London, Nov. 21—The fact that Edward Harrington was fined £500 by Justice Hannan to-day for contempt of court was entirely due to the Kerry editor's stubbornness. He not only did not write the offensive article, but there is positive proof, aside from his own statement, that he did not know of its existence until it appeared in the paper. Concerning the matter, Harrington said in the House last evening: "When I read the article it actually made my ears tingle." Harrington will make no effort to evade the payment of the fine by appeal or otherwise, and the money will probably be raised by subscription among his friends, many of whom have already expressed their willingness to contribute.

THE AFRICAN SLAVE TRADE.

London, Nov. 21—A dispatch from Zanzibar says the British consular authorities have issued a proclamation regarding the slave trade, in which they warn British subjects of the penalties which they will incur in making illegal contracts. Slave owners have united in a monster petition against the enforcement of laws regarding the slave traffic which, they assert, have been in practical abeyance for many years. It is reported the entire plans of the blockade has been changed in order to include the whole coast.

MURDER IN SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, Nov. 21—John Goodwin, a Southern Pacific brakeman, and Frank McGliney, a waiter, were arrested to-day and charged with the murder of Michael Block, manager of a Montgomery Avenue restaurant where McGliney was employed until Thursday night. He was dismissed by young Block for laziness and the following night accompanied by Goodwin, met Block and assaulted him. Block's death early this morning from the effects of the beating led to his arrest.

Yeon Sing, a young Highbinder, was this morning sentenced to be hanged on December 28th for the murder of his uncle in a Chinese restaurant during a money dispute.

HER BIRTHDAY.

London, Nov. 21.—To-day is the Empress Frederick's birthday. Many German officers and other notables tendered their congratulations.

SHOT A NEGRO.

Shapsburg, Ky., Nov. 21—Judge C. B. Withers gave himself up yesterday, stating that he had shot and killed a negro who had threatened his life and those of the members of his family and who made a motion as if to draw a weapon.

THE COMMISSION.

London, Nov. 21—The taking of testimony was resumed and George Curtin gave the details of the murder of his father. After the murder the Curtin family were boycotted and their servants were compelled to leave their service. Curtin testified that he was a member of the Legion when it was first organized. His father was vice president of a branch. The witness had no reason to believe that the League was implicated in crimes against his family. Various branches of the League had denounced the murder of his father.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its' cures are marvelous. *

A Success.

The French Hotel, under the management of the well known epicure, Mr. Escalet, is meeting with excellent success. All speak in glowing terms of the cuisine. The place to get the best dinner in town. Meals at all hours during the day. *

—If you wish to insure your life select the Citizens' Insurance Company, as then your widow, however young and inexperienced, is sure to get the money without trouble. Mrs. Blackett, of Comox, whose late lamented husband was insured in the Citizens' for $3000, went to the Bank of British Columbia with the draft and it was paid immediately on presentation at the Company's office at Montreal. A Life Policy in the Citizens' is so much cash money laid by against the death of the bread winner. Victoria office, 56 Langley street. *

FROM OTTAWA.

The Crossing Case—Brilliant Argument by Mowat.

Ottawa. Nov. 22, 5 p. m.—The Supreme Court was crowded when the Manitoba crossing case came up to-day. Robinson finished for the Canadian Pacific and was followed by Mowat who made an able and brilliant argument in favor of the provinces which was a true interpretation of the British North America Act. McCarthey followed for Manitoba, and Blake replied, speaking when the court rose after 4 o'clock. He will finish the address in about an hour to-morrow, after which the case will close. The judges seem to favor the Canadian Pacific case judging from their remarks.

Picnic for the Doctor.

Doctor Griffis was taken to the Provincial Gaol yesterday afternoon by Officer Thomas. He was accompanied by Magnus Johnston, the Icelander. Before leaving the lock-up the Doctor said he never felt happier in his life and thought he was having a regular "picnic."

Grand Masquerade Ball.

Prof. Oliver will give his second masquerade ball of the season on Friday next, Nov. 23d, at which four prizes will be given, two for the finest costumes, lady and gentleman, and two for the best sustained characters. Gentleman maskers 50 cents, ladies free. Spectators 50 cents.

Engineers' Certificates.

In compliance with an act passed in the Dominion Parliament, it becomes necessary for all engineers of stationary engines to pass an examination before the close of the year 1888. A number of engineers in this city are preparing for the examination which will be held under the supervision of Mr. W. A. Russell, Steamboat Inspector.

Oddfellows' Socials.

The Oddfellows of the city will renew the social entertainments given by them during the winter season in previous years, and will commence with one to be held next Wednesday evening. These socials have always been most enjoyable affairs and are very popular with the young people. The limited number of tickets in the hands of the committee are being rapidly taken up so that success is already assured.

On a Tear.

A woman was arrested on Saturday afternoon, says the Columbian, on Columbia street, in a state of beastly intoxication, and conveyed to the lockup. When the constable put her under arrest she opened a tirade of abuse on him, and was free in the use of language such as few men, however profane, would care to use. She was admitted to bail yesterday but failed to appear at the police court this morning.

Our Brave Defenders.

Our Volunteer Rifle Company were inspected in the drill shed last evening by Lt. Col. Holmes D. A. G. They were also dissected and bissected. They are young and zealous. What have we to fear with such brave defenders commanded by noble captains? The D. A. G. was so much pleased with the performance that he refused to sign the pay roll. But what care they for a few bits? 'Tis nothing! 'tis dross! with military valor and ardor and a fine uniform. What else do we require? Nothing.

Religiously Insane.

A peculiar case of insanity was brought before the probate court at Seattle on Tuesday. Wm. Frazier is the name of the demented young man who seems to be the victim of a religious mania. His faith is alarming. He believes that he could do anything he pleases with the world, not only spiritually, but in a temporal way, with the Lord's assistance. Frazier hails from the vicinity of Victoria, and has not been in Seattle very long. By vocation he is a farmer. His parents live in Canada. He is lodged in jail at present.

The Bastile.

Whoever is responsible for the outside ornamentation of the new bastile, called a court-house, is making a great mistake in not putting down green sod between the building and pavement. A fringe of green around the white walls would be a great relief to the eye, and a refreshing sight in a place where everything else is brick and mortar. The evergreens are good enough but the space is too limited for trees to be of any utility or beauty. The genius responsible for the blunder may have once had eyes for the beautiful, but at present he is suffering from myopy.

Opium on the Umatilla.

A vigorous search by customs officers of the steamer Umatilla on her arrival in San Francisco on Tuesday resulted in a seizure of opium which it was intended to smuggle ashore as soon as possible. The officers had been searching the vessel all day, and were about to give it up, when a shout from one of their number who was searching near the funnel, brought the whole crowd in a hurry to the spot. There, concealed in some debris, was a gunny sack containing 45 5-tael boxes of Tai Yuen opium. This brand is the finest kind of opium, and the value of the seizure was $800.

Victoria Choral Society.

The date for the performance of the Society's first concert was definitely fixed for Wednesday, December the 12th. President Redfern at last night's meeting called attention to the fact that next Wednesday is the last night that members will be received without payment of entrance fee. The choruses and solos from Judas Maccabeus for the first part of the programme are rapidly getting in first-class shape. All persons wishing to take part in the coming concert are invited to attend the next meeting, to be held next Wednesday at Messrs. Goodwin & Jordan's rooms, corner of Fort and Broad streets.

Admitted the Charge.

Simpson, the Tacoma defaulter, arrived in that city on Tuesday. Simpson refused to talk, saying he had nothing whatever to say in regard to his escapade, and that the published account of his capture was substantially correct. He is a rather pleasant-looking young fellow, and takes his position rather coolly. He claims to be just 22 years of age and that he has been on the coast but two years, hailing from La Grande, Mo., where his relatives reside. Simpson was taken before Justice Senter, when he waived a hearing for court. He identified the money produced and admitted having taken it, and expressed a determination to give the prosecution little trouble. His bonds were fixed at $3,000. He claimed he had only spent $50 of the stolen money. Agent Hamilton states that the amount returned is $200 or $300 short of the amount taken, so far as known, and fears he may hear of other missing packages.

THE LIBEL CASE.

Evidence Taken in the Case of Dunsmuir vs The Times.

Sir M. B. Begbie, C. J., took his seat on the bench at 11:15 a. m., when Sheriff McMillan read the panel of jurors, J. B. Ferguson alone failing to answer to his name.

The Chief Justice commenting on the non-appearance, said it was his duty, when his attention was called to such absence to have the delinquent brought before him to show cause why he should not be committed for contempt.

The following jury was then sworn in: H. E. Croasdaile, foreman, H. Short, F. Page, G. A. McTavish, A. Finlayson, W. J. Goepel, W. Wilson, J. A. Lawson. The defence challenged Jas. Fell and H. Young, and the plaintiff J. A. T. Caton, Thos. Nuttall and T. DeVeulle, the latter being ill.

Theo. Davie and Mr. Helmcken appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. J. R. Hett and S. P. Mills for the defence.

Mr. Davie presented the case for the prosecution. He maintained that the article complained of deeply affected the plaintiff in his official capacity, as it accused him of abusing it for his own personal advantage. Reading the article, which stated that the railway's lands were sold for $3 an acre and that Mr. Dunsmuir had roads built to his mines by the Government of which he was a member, Mr. Davie argued that the meaning was licentious and calculated to provoke the commission of such crimes as recently took place in Chicago. The article was a detriment to the trade and the prosperity of the place and was no encouragement to a man like Mr. Dunsmuir to continue his enterprises.

Mr. Dunsmuir was called, and in reply to Mr. Davie said he was President of the E. & N. Railway; he owned the Wellington mines himself, and the Comox mines with partners. He was also President of the Council and a member for Nanaimo. He began to open the Comox mines about the end of March last. (Mr. Davie put in the Settlement Act.) The mines he was opening in Comox were not in the railway belt. The conveyance made in the Settlement Act had been made to him. (The article on immigration containing the alleged libel was read by Mr. Theo. Davie.) Mr. Dunsmuir said he charged no settler $3 an acre; he had sold two or three hundred acres at $3. There had been cases where farmers, who had 320 acres, wanted 160 more, when he asked $3 an acre. Most of the agricultural lands were now taken up in Comox. There were 167,000 acres of land taken up in the railway belt for which the company had received $27,000. He was more anxious to get settlers than the money. It was untrue that the government had built roads to his mine; he had never asked them for a cent. It was untrue that the public could not trade there, and it was all nonsense that he prohibited even a peanut stand from being established at the mines.

To Mr. Hett—He could not tell the quantity of land he received under the settlement act; but he estimated that it amounted to 1,535,000 acres. He had no offer for the purchase of all this land, and could not state what value he placed on it. The Southern Pacific owned half of it already. In selling land he sold under the Settlement Act, the surface rights. The biggest price he had received was $8 an acre. The Times was not a supporter of his government; it attacked him for building a house. Was not interested in the Colonist. Was interested in the Foster Milling and Mining Co., was not aware that $2,000 of public money had been spent in building a road to that mine; it ran in his head that some money was spent there. I suppose the item in the public accounts in respect to the expenditure there is correct. The Wellington road upon which public expenditures were also made, had been constructed by him and was made a public road a short time ago. He instructed the action to be entered the second night the article appeared; had not asked for an explanation.

Mr. Mills, for the defence, asked to put in the explanatory article that appeared in the subsequent issue of The Times, the Judge refusing to allow it to go to the jury. The article, headed "Prosecution or Persecution," was shown to witness who said he thought he had read it partly, but it would not have been written had the paper not have been served with a writ. The court refused to rule on the point of the admissibility of the article until the defence was being heard. This concluded the evidence for the plaintiff.

Mr. Mills, for the defence, asked His Lordship to rule whether the language complained of would justify the inuendo in the pleadings of plaintiff. The court thought it possible that they might.

Mr. Mills read the original article to the jury and commented upon it pointing out that Mr. Dunsmuir's name was only mentioned once, the other references being to the E. & N. R. His clients had the greatest respect for Mr. Dunsmuir, but as a member of the Government they did not agree with him. It was the duty of the press, and it was the duty of every person to criticise the acts of public men, and it may even impute wicked or selfish motives to their conduct so long as it may be done honestly and in a bona fide manner. He quoted numerous authorities to show that the article was not actionable on the ground of public policy even was it libellous under other circumstances. The fortune or misfortune of the Times was that it was opposed to the government and to the public acts of Mr. Dunsmuir. Mr. Dunsmuir was a man of great influence and great wealth, and he had said in the box that when he undertook a thing he generally succeeded. His counsel had said that they did not want money, which he could well believe for they had a great deal already. Great license was granted to the press of the old country, and if it was necessary there it was far more necessary here. There was no defamation in accusing Mr. D. of having roads built to his mines. The comment was a fair one. It was rather a compliment than otherwise to say that Mr. D. had the Government in his pocket; it might be a reflection upon the Government but not upon Mr. Dunsmuir.

Mr. Templeman, manager of The Times, testified that he did not write the article, and that in his opinion it did not bear the construction placed upon it by the plaintiff.

Mr. Grant proved from the public accounts that public monies had been expended on a road to the Foster mine, in which the plaintiff was a stockholder.

Mr. Mills then addressed the jury, followed by Mr. Davie and His Lordship defined the law of libel.

At the present writing, 4:30 p. m., no verdict had been arrived at.

COL. WOODFORD'S FAREWELL.

A Home for Fallen Women to be Established.

The last of the series of temperance meetings held for the past fortnight in the Pandora Street Methodist Church was even more numerously attended than its predecessors. That the interest in temperance and kindred reforms is daily on the increase, was evidenced by the large attendance at the meeting last evening. There were many occupying only standing room at the entrance of the church, and the attention paid throughout was such as reflected the deep interest of the audience in their own as well as their neighbor's good to be derived from reform. The able speaker founded his remarks and earnest appeals upon the 14th of Luke, from the 28th to the 32nd verse, having for his theme "Counting the Cost." Pursuing this line of thought, he urged upon his hearers to adopt that common sense shown in building houses or putting up any kind of structures whatever, to that which is more permanent than any other,—that is, character building. He drew the attention of his hearers to the utter uselessness of depending upon themselves for victory over drink, since men have failed times without number, by so doing; but that to achieve complete victory they must trust to a Power higher than they—"building upon the Rock Christ Jesus." Many apt suggestions were also given to the mothers, wives, and other relatives of those who have been delivered from the deluding cup, as to the way they should care for these, even down to the niceties of the culinary department. At the close of the address, the Colonel took the opportunity to thank the people of Victoria for the royal way in which they have treated him whilst sojourning in their midst. With much feeling, he mentioned the fact that during his whole stay in this city there never was an unkind word spoken to or about him from the pulpit, press, or platform, and that he will leave the city with the pleasantest recollections, cherishing in his memory the remembrance of his many new acquaintances he made whilst here, adding that there were some who visited him in his rooms for words of advice, suggestions, etc., and that these seemed as if they were old friends of his that certainly will live in his memory as long as his life shall last.

Immediately following his address, the lecturer resumed by dwelling for a short while on the needs of the time, with regard to those of the gentler sex, who had in a dark hour of their lives fallen victims to the tempter, and thus lost that which is more precious to pure womanhood than all the rubies in the world. He spoke in scatching terms of the goody-goody wealthy ladies who would gather up their skirts when passing by their sisters who had fallen, as if fearing that by brushing against them they might take on some of their filth, instead of showing a sister's love and sister's sympathy by holding out a helping hand. "There are no fewer than five of the unfortunate class in the city," said the colonel, "who have expressed their desire to come out from behind the red curtains and quit it for the balance of their lives." He put it to the audience whether or not the path should be made smooth for these and others who may come to the same conclusion and the audience then and there responded to a subscription of close on to twelve hundred dollars towards the maintenance of a "retreat," or "home" to be erected in this city, which sum is to be augmented by aid from other directions.

Thus successfully ended a fortnight's mission conducted by Colonel Woodford, who is himself a living testimony of the reformatory power of the gospel, having once personally experienced the sorrow and discomfort of a drunken career. The Colonel leaves with the kind wishes of many to whom he has been of great assistance whilst laboring in this city.
